Description

MP-99 Electric Powered Auto Mug Heat Press

The MP-99 Electric Powered Auto Mug Heat Press is a state-of-the-art, fully automatic machine designed for efficient and high-quality sublimation printing on 11oz and 15oz mugs. Its user-friendly features and robust construction make it an excellent choice for both small businesses and personal projects.

Key Features

- Automatic Operation: The MP-99 automates the pressing process, reducing labor intensity and minimizing the potential for human error.
- Aluminum Die-Casting Body: Crafted from durable aluminum die-casting, the machine ensures stability and longevity, providing consistent performance over time.
- GY-05N Digital Controller: Equipped with the GY-05N digital time and temperature controller, it allows precise adjustments to temperature (up to 230°C) and time (0-999 seconds), ensuring optimal transfer results.
- Versatile Mug Compatibility: Designed for 11oz sublimation mugs, the MP-99 offers flexibility with interchangeable aluminum blocks, enabling compatibility with 15oz mugs. This adaptability caters to various printing needs.
- No Air Compressor Needed: Operating solely on electricity, the MP-99 eliminates the need for an external air compressor, simplifying setup and reducing maintenance requirements.
