

Description

SA-15/20 series are an affordable swing away heat press machine from Microtec. Two different sizes: 38x38cm and 40x50cm allow customers to choose what they want.

This swing arm press machine is perfect for "on the go" production, swings away from the work area, giving you a safe work environment for placing transfers on a multitude of substrates. Easy adjustable pressure control, full range temperature.

What's more, the swing-away sublimation machine design gives straight down higher pressure, so it's perfect for toner paper, thick tiles, sublimation rocks etc. And it's more convenient for transferring to avoid hurting operator. If you are looking for a high pressure heat press machine, Microtec SA swing away machine will be your best choice.

Feature

Upgrade GY-06 Digital Controller. This digital controller shows directly setting time, temperature and counter, and present time and temperature at the same time.

Straight Down Higher Pressure: The swing-away design facilitates a straight-down, higher-pressure application. This makes the SA-15/20 series particularly suitable for toner paper, thick tiles, sublimation rocks, and other materials that benefit from increased pressure.

Operator Safety: Swing-away design not only enhances pressure but also contributes to operator safety by moving the heating element away from the work area during placement and removal of substrates.

Adjustable Pressure Control: SA-15/20 series features easy adjustable pressure control, allowing users to customize the pressure according to the requirements of different substrates.
